Events to support young people
in care to realise their potential

- What is the universe made out of?
- Where are all the aliens?
- Are your hands really clean?

If you are interested in learning the answers to any of the questions above or learning about the gas in our atmosphere, making a microscope, building a castle that can withstand projectiles, this free event in Cambridge is for you.

This event offers young people who are currently in care the opportunity to come to Cambridge for a day to explore the city and to learn something new by attending talks and doing practical experiments as part of the Cambridge Science Festival.

We will provide a Student Ambassador to guide you around the city and take you to the talk(s) that you would like to attend. You will also be able to have lunch in one of the Cambridge Colleges and we can help with the transport costs involved with getting to Cambridge for the day.

If you would like to attend the Realise Cambridge Science Festival Day, please complete the booking form on our website. If you have any questions about the event or the support that the Realise Team can offer, please contact Realise@admin.cam.ac.uk.
